LARGEST GUN IN THE WORLD

Placed in the Oven for the Annealing Process.

WILL BE RUSHED TO THE EAST.

Poland Torpedo Boat a Success—Carnegie Secures a Contract from England for Steel Plate.

By Wire To THE TELEGRAM.

Cleveland, Ohio, March 12—The largest single gun in the world, which Dr. Gatling has just finished here, will be placed in the oven today for heating in the annealing process to which it must be subjected. It will be taken out about the middle of next week, in time for the inspection of the national board of ordnance. It will then be rushed to Washington navy yard where it will be rifled and mounted. It is not known where it will be placed.

TORPEDO BOAT A SUCCESS.

Perthy Amboy, N. J., March 12—A successful dive was made with the Poland submarine torpedo boat this morning. Three men were in her. She went out into deep water and came up again. Inventor Poland is well pleased with the trial and expects to make runs and regular dives in the bay next week.

STEEL ARMOR FOR BRITAIN.

By Cable to THE TELEGRAM

London, March 12—The British government has placed a contract for five thousand tons of steel plates for ship building with the Carnegie Steel Company of Pittsburg. This is the first order of the kind placed.

A REIDSVILLE ELOPEMENT.

George W. Crumpton and Mrs. Myers the Parties.

George W. Crumpton, a painter by trade who hails from Reidsville, occupies a cell in the city prison. Crumpton was arrested Wednesday night on a warrant issued by the chief of police of Reidsville, charging him with making away with a lot of wearing apparel, the property of a Mrs. Myers, of that town.

It seems that Crumpton and Mrs. Myers had planned a runaway match, and it was Crumpton's part of the game to enter the Myers home and take such articles of clothing as would be necessary on the trip. The husband caught on to the racket just a little too late to thwart his wife's purpose. She left Reidsville and up to yesterday no one knew her whereabouts. It was learned yesterday that she was in Greenville and had been there several days.—Charlotte News.

A telephone message from Reidsville conveys the information that this is not the first offense of Mrs. Myers; at least twice before she has shown inclinations to cease honoring, loving and obeying her fond hubby. Mr. Myers has sent a friend, one Mr. Collins, after his better half and it is probable that the family circle will shortly be complete again.

Mr. Crumpton is said to be very penitent since his arrest but thus far Mrs. Myers has not manifested any symptoms of contrition. Mr. Collins and Mrs. Myers have not yet returned to Reidsville.

Abate the Nuisance.

It is getting to be almost unbearable at times—the loafing, whistling brigade of negro urchins, who frequently throng the sidewalks between Sycamore and Market, along South Elm. They hang around store windows and doors and indulge in loud talk, shrill whistle blowing and in various ways make a general nuisance of themselves.

It is extremely annoying to both merchant and customer when talking business, to have their ears deafened by a shrill blast from a tin whistle. Some of these mischievous boys have been seen to stick their heads in the doors and give shrieks that would make a Comanche ashamed of himself.

The question is, how is the nuisance to be abated? Has the police force power to act, or will it require special enactment to give them jurisdiction? If it will require legislation, then let the board of aldermen legislate. This condition of things, perhaps, exists in other places in the city, but in this particular locality the writer has observed for himself and has heard complaints made in regard to the boisterous and annoying conduct of the whistling brigade.

NOTES FROM HIGH POINT.

The Local News from Our Neighbor Briefly Told.

TELEGRAM BUREAU, HIGH POINT, N.C., March 12, '98.

Frank English, of Guilford College, came over today on his wheel.

T. R. Lashly, a late resident of High Point, is a visitor to the city.

Frank Kinney, of Thomasville, was in the city yesterday on business.

Prof. R M. Vestal, of Trinity High School, was in the city today.

Messrs. L. Wray and E. H. Jarrett, of Archdale, are visitors in the city today.

A large number of High Point boys attended the playday at Green Grove today.

John Smith, of Bessemer City, came in this morning on the vestibule from the north and stopped over with his parents.

W. C. Lane, one of the popular teachers of the High Point Graded school, is spending a few days at his home in Goldsboro.

Miss Ida Beeson and Misses Daisy Rankin and Mamie Jordan are spending a few days in Greensboro visiting friends and relatives.

R. C. Charles, the present postmaster, has not entered upon his duties yet as cashier of the Commercial National Bank, his bond having been approved by the board of directors yesterday. His successor in the postoffice has not yet been appointed.

The young ladies of the Christian Endeavor are doing some very creditable work fixing up for the convention which will be held here the last of next week. The young men are getting things in shape to have a reception next Saturday afternoon in the Graded school building.

J. L. Armfield, a student of Guilford College, is spending the day in the city. Mr. Armfield is captain of the the baseball team there and states that the new uniforms are on the way and a series of games are being arranged with different towns of the south. No better selection than Mr. Armfield could have been made for captain of the team.

SWAPPING TOMMY-ROT.

What McKinley and Polo Y Bernabe Said Today.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

Washington, March 12—The new Spanish envoy, Polo y Bernabe, in presenting his credentials and address to the president expressed the hope that he would be "able to cement more closely the friendly feeling between the two countries." President McKinley, in replying, said he would do all in his power to "draw the two countries more closely together on a friendly footing."

President Andrews at the Normal.

"An oratorical treat for which President Andrews and the Library Association are equally to be congratulated. A eulogy glowing in eloquence and beauty on the south's dearest of heroes from a gallant northern gentleman and soldier is telling evidence of the death of war prejudices and animosities, and the applause of the audience last evening at the recital of heroism from either side showed that President E. B. Andrews as a Union soldier and as a champion of southern chivalry was equally appreciated. The presence of N. B. Forrest Camp, Confederate Veterans, was a courtesy worthy of the occasion."—Chattanooga Times.

"It was a rare privilege which the people of Augusta enjoyed last night in listening to the lecture of President E. B. Andrews on the character and career of Lee. To say that his audience was charmed, would be but a commonplace definition of the rapt attention with which they hung upon his clear and concise presentation of the life of Lee, and the sense of delighted wonder with which they followed him through the original views by which his lecture was charactered."—Augusta Herald.

"The Lyceum Course has brought us no speaker who has furnished more acceptable and profitable entertainment. President Andrews is eminently a historian and he has rare facility in grouping interesting facts and in yresenting the epochal incidents of a career."—Augusta Chronicle.

Hacks will start from the courthouse at usual hours, passing down South Elm steet, stopping at the hotels. Fare 10 cents each way.

TROOPS TO HURRY EAST

Regular Army Will be Sent to Atlantic Seaboard.

ONLY A FEW LEFT IN THE WEST

Measures no Longer Precautionary but Aggressive—Merritt to Command any Force in Cuba.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

Washington, March 12—Substantially the whole regular army of the United States will be brought to the eastern seaboard with all possible speed.

The cavalry, infantry and artillery will be moved to the posts in the Atlantic and Gulf states and only sufficient troops will be left in the west to prevent any possible Indian uprising. Orders to moblize 24,000 trained soldiers are in preparation and will be issued as soon as plans for their transportation can be perfected.

This action of the authorities furnishes conclusive evidence that the government has advanced beyond the stage of preparing for trouble as a precautionary measure. It now anticipates trouble and expects it. The annual appropriation is wholly insufficient to move this vast body of troops and it has been determined, therefore, to draw upon the fifty millions for defence fund for this purpose. It has also been decided that Gen. Merritt shall command any military forces that may be sent to Cuba.

Trinity College Notes.

Correspondence Telegram.

Trinity College, Mar. 12—Special religious services under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A., began Monday evening. Services are held every evening at 7:30, at the request of the students these services are conducted by Dr. Kilgo.

P. H. Hanes, of Winston, a member of the board of trustees has been a visitor at the Park. He came to be with his sons who are students at the college.

The Historical society held its regular monthly meeting on Saturday evening. J. P. Breedlove read a paper on the "Experience of Two Confederate Soldiers." Prof J. S. Bassett read a paper on the "Relation of the Methodist Church to Slavery in North Carolina."

Y. M. C. A. officers for the ensuing year have been elected as follows: President, J. H. Barnhardt; Vice-President, S. A. Stewart: Recording secretary Richard Webb; Corresponding secretary, C. M. Muse; Treasurer W. W. Card.

Dr. Jno. O. Wilson, of Greenville, S. C., editor of the Southern Christian Advocate, spent a few days on the Park. He has been the guest of President Kilgo.

J. H. Barndardt, H. M. North and D. W. Newsom left this week to represent our association at the Y. M. C. A. state convention that convenes in Asheville.

A NEW COMMONS HALL

And Other Improvements at Guilford College.

The trustees of Guilford College, at their meeting this week, decided to erect a new commons hall.

The building will cost about $3,000 and will be used as a mess hall for the boys where the charge for board will be $6 per month.

A mess hall will be erected for the young ladies also on the west side of the campus. Board will be reduced at Founders Hall to $8 per month.

When the new halls are completed Guilford College will have accommodations for about 250 students and strenuous efforts will be made to secure that number.

G. Stanley Hall, of Clark University, Worcester, Mass., has been invited to deliver the commencement address.

Death of Miss Simmons.

News has reached this state of the death at Eufaula, Alabama, of Miss Evabelle Simmons whose home is at Wake Forest, N. C. Miss Simmons was the only woman graduate of Wake Forest College and was one of the most brilliant women in the state. She was the author of a number of poems that have been widely copied and warmly praised by critics. She was the daughter of the late William Gaston Simmons, professor in Wake Forest college.

London, Mar. 12—The American embassy has received information that Spain has raised sixty million dollars for the purchase of warships. This amount is now on deposit in a London bank.

Capital vs. Labor.

The attendance at the Academy of Music last night to witness the repetition of Cherry, or Capital vs. Labor, was rather disappointing, only about one-half the seats being occupied.

The caste was the same as on the first presentation of this pretty drama, except the role of Cherry, which was taken by Miss Juanita Cooper, and Charlie Hilton was played by Mr. Harry Cunningham. These two deserve special praise for the manner in which they interpreted their parts, having had so short a time for preparation.

The play throughout was thoroughly enjoyed, and, as on the first occasion, Miss Susie Stone as Flossie Maxwell, was decidedly the favorite.

The special features between acts—vocal solos by Miss Carrie Smith and Dr. W. F. Laughren and the cornet solo by Mr. Claude Elam were good and each number was heartily encored.

SPANISH TORPEDO FLOTILLA

Has Not Yet Left Cadiz for Cuba.

NATIONAL ELECTION IS NEAR.

The Nashville Arrives from the Tortugas—Senator Proctor and Party Leave for Washington.

By Cable to THE TELEGRAM.

Madrid, March, 12—The Spanish torpedo flotillo has not yet left Cadiz. The vessels will sail for the Canary islands so soon as the weather moderates.

Placards are posted throughout the city setting forth that the national candidates, whom all good Spaniards should support, are Generals Barrero and Sigua. The placards end with "Long live the fatherland" and "Long live the army." These candidates have been nominated by the Weylerites and the republican and Carlist newspapers announce that they will not support them.

TO SELL THE PENITENTIARY

To The Federal Government For a Federal Prison.

The News and Observer of this morning says:

There is going to be a big fight over the location of the federal prison in the south. Raleigh has it, but Atlanta and half a dozen other places want it. Not only do they want it buy they are going to make a desperate effort to get it.

Of course Raleigh having the prison already, has the nine points of possession on her rivals; but Atlanta is sending committees and delegations to Washington to press her claims, and the people here cannot afford to sit still.

The suggestion made several days ago by the News and Observer, that the state sell the central prison here to the United States, has met with favor everywhere. The state administration, the penitentiary officials and others say that it would be the best thing for the state that could possibly be done.

Claudius Dockery chairman of the board of prison commissioners said in an interview:

"Why can't we sell our building to the government? All the inspectors who have visited it are highly pleased with its arrangement. I am in favor of selling it and putting the convicts on the public roads. Of course I understand this will require legislative enactment, but I am satisfied this can be secured from the next Legislature if the question is put before it properly.

"And again a public road system of this kind would work a lasting good to the state. As it is, for years we have been expending thousands of dollars to defray the expenses of our present penitentiary system and now have no permanent benefits to our credit. The policy should be changed and now is a good time to begin by first selling our building to the government for a permanent Federal prison located in Raleigh.

"With proper work, and an excellent building to offer, I believe we can be successful. Certainly the game is worth the candle."

More Accurate Service in Greensboro Than Baltimore

Mr. C. M. Vanstory had his little girl's eyes examined in Baltimore last year and went with the prescription to one of the largest and best known optical houses there to have the glasses made up. FORTUNATELY one of the lenses got broken recently and was carried to the Greensboro Eye Specialist to be replaced. He saw at a glance that neither lens accorded with the prescription, and so changed them both. Mr. Vanstory sent the old lenses with an explanation to the occulist who had given the prescription and in reply received the following;

PHELPS ON KIPLING.

The praises of Kipling have been sung so loudly recently that W. L. Phelps, assistant professor of English literature in Yale, feels called to couch a lance against him and show what a Yale professor can do to the author of the "Recessional" and the "Jungle Book," when he has a mind to.

Mr. Phelps says: "He is awfully uneven and full of errors. When he is dull he is perfectly horrible. I never read anything so dull as are some of his pages. * * * * His style is utterly bad. * * * * He does not understand sentence construction, to use a rhetorical term. * * * * His treatment of women is horrible, pagan, uncivilized and above all his occasional cynicism strikes us as very bad."

Let the Honorable Mr. Ayer, of Raleigh, look to his critical laurels. W. L. Phelps is hot on his trail.

We have heard a good deal of recent years about "Yale grit," the "Yale physoignomy" and the "Yale manner;" here we have some Yale English; there can be no doubt of it; it is the English of an "assistant professor of English literature" in that noteworthy seat of learning.

The bright young man at Yale is taught to say "awfully uneven" and "perfectly horrible;" it is fair to presume that when he wishes to convey a contrary sentiment he is instructed to say "just too lovely for anything," or "ain't it a dear?"

Mr. Phelps should not expect Kipling to come up to the Yale standard. They understand sentence building at Yale; the instructors look sharply to that; witness this rhetorical gem from Mr. Phelps: "I never read anything so dull as are some of his pages." If the pages in question were presented Mr. Kipling would probably reply: "I never done it;" so would Yale rhetoric stand justified.

Mr. Phelps again assures us that "his treatment of women is horrible" (he should be jailed for wife beating) and "above all his occasional cynicism strikes us as bad." Ah, indeed; surely the professor must have gotten a page or two of a freshman's composition sandwiched with his lecture. The only salvation for Mr. Kipling is to give up his ill treatment of women, eschew his bad, bad cynicism and take a course in English at Yale.

The governor of North Carolina cannot play the fiddle but—

In case of war it is improbable that any sutlers will have to be conscripted.

Seemingly the attempt of Hawaii to crawl in through the Golden Gate is not likely to receive an encore.

Of course the contractors and manufacturers now thronging Washington are sizzling hot with patriotic zeal to serve their country.

It was kind and motherly of England to talk about offering her navy to this country but a little historical research would convince her that America has generally been able to provide a navy when the occasion demanded it.

Just at present the growth in population of Chicago is perhaps relatively greater than that of New York.

The New York Herald's psalmodic Don Quixote, Dr. George H. Hepworth, having returned from Armenia there is now no reason why he should not be sent to Cuba.

It is strange that among all the scientific explanations of the sea-serpent offered no one has ever called in evidence the abominable quality of the grog usually served to jack tars.

No amount of war talk can smother the Georgia gubernatorial campaign where a dozen or so of reluctant gentlemen are being shoved into the political arena by the hands of admiring friends.

We admonish all populists to stop throwing rocks inside our camp. It gives the plutocrats too much comfort. We never will all think exactly alike, but our differences certainly are not enough so annihilate our organization. We can't affort it.—J. F. Brinson, in Progressive Farmer.

Aha, and is some thoughtless disciple of the initiative and referendum shying "rocks" at his fellow discipuli? Cannot the siren voice of Marion Butler and the tenor lilt of Harry Skinner spread sweet harmony and mild eyed patience "inside our camp" until such time as grilled monopolies shall be served for breakfast and toasted syndicates shall satisfy for luncheon and everybody sing psalms of the dawning millenium and— all populists "think" alike? Let no Tarheel plutocrat laugh in ghoulish glee if the brethren are forced to dodge.

SATURDAY'S LITERARY CHAT.

[All books and magazines mentioned below may be had at Wharton's book store.]

The Southland, published at Greenville, N. C., by Henry T. King and devoted to patriotism and the cause of the Confederate Veterans, came in late this time but the table of contents is no less interesting for that. Among the contributions are a "History of North Carolina Regiments," "Vance and the 26th Regiment," "Mecklenburg's Rebellion" and "N. C. Confederate Pensions."

The Wake Forest Student for March is on time and full of readable matter as usual. Very fine indeed is a sonnet by Hubert M. Evans entitled "As One Who Stands Alone at Eventide." Other contributions are "How We Got the Charter" by J. D. Huffham, "Influence of the Destruction of Monasteries on Education" by E. W. Sikes, "The Tramp," poem by J. C. McNeil, "Fromaldehyde, a new Disinfectant" Hubert M. Evans, "Dey Wan't Twins" a dialect story by Ellun B. The editorial and miscellany are thoughtful and well considered.

The March McClure is not a strikingly good number. There is a pair of railroad stories that have the good fortune not to be written by Mr. Warman, Walter Wellman asks "Where is Andrée?" and as yet nobody seems just able to say, Charles A. Dana's Reminiscences continue and of course are well worth the while, Mr. Anthony Hope refreshes his readers with another instalment of "Rupert of Hentzau" at so much per line, John Walker Harrington has a story, "Ottenhausen's Coup." The price of McClures is ten cents and this month, as the old farmer said of the free lecture, it is "about worth the price of admission."

In the March Atlantic Henry D. Sedgwick Jr., compares English and French literature to the disadvantage of the latter. Mr. Sedgwick thinks that French literature has been over praised and that its popularity is waning.

Edmund Gosse makes the assertion in Cosmopolis that M. Anatole France is the most interesting intelligence in the contemporary world of letters.

Zola's concluding romance, "Paris" of his series of the Three Cities, is the most characteristic and valuable of the entire trilogy (Macmillan.) Here we have again the Zola of the Rougon Macquart series, the sociological student of hereditary influences and the epic painter of great masses of people and interests on a vast canvas. Here, too, we find him once more the depictor of the degrading passions of Human Brute—not so grossly vile as in his worst realism, and yet portraying the ulcerous horror of gilded vice in that gay metropolis of the pleasure seekers of the world. Selecting one typical family of Parisian bankers and aristocrats, he analyzes the evil developments in it of decadence and moral deformity, and he makes it the centre of ramifications which bring almost the entire world of Parisian politics, journalism, society and demi-monde into his scope.—Philadelphia Record.

Among noteworthy new novels are James Graham's "Son of the Czar" an exceptionally graphic story of Peter the Great's ill-fated heir, Alexis and and his court of ecclesiastical advisers; Archdeacon Cyrus Townsend Brady's story of land and sea in the days of the American Revolution, "For Love of Country" in which the Trenton and Princeton campaigns are utilized to glorify Washington anew; Agnes and Egerton Castle's Moravian romance. "The Pride of Jennico" and George Gissing's powerful and sombre London financial tale, "The Whirlpool."

General News in a Nutshell.

Efforts are being made at Richmond Va., to transport the old Libby Prison back to that city from Chicago, Ill.

Marshall Ross Smith, of Morley, Mo., while locked up in jail, set fire to the building and was burned to a crisp.

Chicago has agreed to advance the salary of grammer and primary school teachers until a maximu of $1000 be reached.

Miss Mildred Brewer will be tried April 4th, Montpelier, Vt., for shooting and killing Miss Annie Wheeler, of whom she was jealous.

Five students have been dismissed from the State University at Columbus, O., and 22 were suspended as the outcome of a recent riotous outbreak.

A steel passenger steamer, to be launched at Wyandotte, Mich., will be christened America, in sympathy with prevailing patriotic public sentiment.

The coasting steamer Eureka was wrecked in sight of San Francisco, Cal. Her passengers were rescued and the storm's damage to shipping was $200,000.

ROTHSCHILDS FORBID WAR.

Because of Spanish and American Securities they Hold.

Washington, D. C., March 10—The great European financiers are all opposed to war between Spain and the United States, and, according to all information coming here will do everything in their power to restrain Spain, particularly by refusing to loan her money for war purposes. The London Rothschilds recently cabled the Belmonts, their correspondents in New York that Spain would not be allowed to go to war with the United States, and similar statements have been made by the other great bankers of Europe.

It is not only that they are concerned about the money they have already invested in Spanish loans, and desirous, if possible, to get some of it back, through some such arrangement as has been suggested by New York bankers for enabling the Cubans to pay part of the Spanish war debt in return for independence, but that their investments in this country would be depreciated by war.

This is one of the factors which moved Great Britain to exert her influence to discourage Spain from making war and to express her interest in the matter as strongly as she is doing.

Sharkey-Choynski Fight.

San Francisco, Cal., March 11—The Sharkey and Choynski fight here tonight was declared a draw in the eight round. The fighting was heavy all through, both men being tired out at the end of the sixth round. In the eighth Choynski was weak and Sharkey rushed him all over the ring, hitting in clinches and any way, regardless of the rules. Joe was floored after a disgraceful foul, but staggered to his feet. Sharkey was very weak.

DREAMED A DREAM.

And Then Went Out and Found a Gold Mine.

Dr. R. L. Shimpoch, came up from Gold Hill this morning tells us of the strange means by which Charles Hopkins, a poor country youth who lives about two miles from Mt. Pleasant, has fair prospects of becoming a man of wealth.

Hopknis stated that about two weeks ago he dreamed that there was gold on his farm, a little obscure patch of rocky soil. He endeavored to induce some relatives to go in with him and make a search. They refused, however, and he induced another party to go in with him. The doctor thinks the discovery will yield the boy a small fortune.

A rich gold vein has been struck on the land of Mr. R. J. Shaver, of Gold Hill. It is thought that the vein will eventually lead to rich discoveries on Mr. Shaver's land.—Salisbury World.

I feel it my duty to testify to the superior merits of "Rice's Goose Grease" as a cough cure. On Friday night the 7th inst I coughed almost the entire night. Cough syrups etc. failing to bring any relief whatever. On the following night I decided to test the virtue of your remedy by bathing my chest thoroughly with it and going to bed, and I tell you honestly I never slept sounder in my life. I take pleasure in commending "Rice's Goose Grease" to those who may be in need of a cough cure.
Wishing you much success. I am

Tonsilitis Tonsilitis

Tonsilitis Can Be Cured. Mrs. Joe Person's Remedy will do it.

Eagle, Iredell Co., N. C.,
December 10, 1897.

For a long time my son was troubled with some bronchial trouble which, every time he took cotd, settld in his throat and produced something like tonsilitis. The tonsils would enlarge and swell so that he had great trouble to swallow anything and could take no solid food. Last spring he took one-half dozen bottles of Mrs. Joe Person's Remedy, and gargled with the Wash, and it cured him. He has not had a spell since.

is a bottle of the greatest of all blood purifiers—

Johnston's Sarsaparilla

QUART BOTTLES.

This great blood purifier and nerve tonic, cures diseases by removing from the system, the conditions which produce them. It expels all poison and impurity from the blood. It acts upon the nerves as a stimulant, particularly upon those nerves belonging to the great organs of the body; therefore, it causes the heart to beat with greater force, the lungs to take in more oxygen and to expel more carbonic acid; it induces the kidneys to send off more of the poisonous excretions from the blood; the bowels to have more regularity and healthfulness in their action; the sweat glands to throw out more impurities.

Our illustrated book of 36 pages will tell you what is the matter and what to do. Its free for the asking. Quart bottle, $1.00.

PERSONAL AND SOCIAL.

Prof. O. W. Carr went to Trinity this morning.

Scott Brown, of Thomasville, was here last night.

T. J. Walker, of Durham, was in the city this morning.

J. Z. Neal, of Jefferson, was in Greensboro last night.

Col. Jas. E. Boyd is in the city today greeting his old friends.

John Wilkes, of Charlotte, was a Greensboro visitor last night.

O. C. Wysong returned to the city over the C. F. & Y. V. road last evening.

Prof. Jerome Dowd and daughter, of Durham, were registered at the Benbow last night.

Miss Bertha Edgerton, of Guilford College, came down this morning to visit her sister, Mrs. J. T. Lashly, of this city.

Rev. Dr. Ivey went to Durham today where he will preach the dedicatory sermon at West End, a new Methodist church, tomorrow.

Editor Johnson, of Charity and Children, Thomasville, spent the forenoon in the city with his brother, Rev. Livingston Johnson and left at noon for Maxton. While here Mr. Johnson made a pleasant call at the Telegram office.

T. Walt Grimes, one of Winston's most popular and efficient druggists, and G. W. Lawson, of the Bell Telephone in that city, were here today going to Chapel Hill to witness a game of baseball there today between the University and Bingham School. Mr. Lawson's brother is pitcher for the University team.

Observer's Estimate of James.

Of James, who appears here next week, the Charlotte Observer of this morning says editorially:

Another test of Charlotte's appreciation of the really meritorious in the dramatic line will be afforded this afternoon and tonight in the appearance of Louis James in a matinee and an evening performance.

Mr. James is among the very foremost of American actors. His reputation as such has been thoroughly established for more than 12 years. It would be a poor encouragement to high class artists to come this way, and poor encouragement to any one who may be contemplating giving to Charlotte that which it so much needs—a first class opera house—if a man of the gifts of Louis James should fail to draw good audiences here this afternoon and evening.

Coast Defense Torpedoes.

The Wilmington Star of yesterday says:

The steamer Wilmington has, during the last week, carried down to Fort Caswell eight submarine torpedoes. A few days since she carried five, and yesterday three more were taken down, all having arrived here in one shipment over the Atlantic Coast Line. The anchors with which the torpedoes are to be held in place have also arrived and been placed along with the torpedoes in the government warehouses at Caswell. The tug Cynthia will be used in planting the torpedoes.

The explosives will be connected with electric batteries on shore, from which, at a moments notice the torpedoes could be touched off with disastrous results."

THE BEAUTIFUL.

Wrinkled and old are those hands of hers,
Hard and full of the seams
Of labor and the years,
Knotted the knuckles
And creased and crinkled
The skin on the backs of them,
Dark veined and large,
With splotches of brown
Between the drawn tendons,
As if seared by tears,
Thick the nails and blunted,
Rough and with little ridges
Running the length of them,
Callous the palms
And lacking all pinkness and prettiness.
Old are those hands of hers,
Wrinkled and hard.
But, oh, what a story of Infinite tenderness
And love
Could they tell,
Those hands of a woman
Whose threescore years and ten
Have been passed in doing the good
That women do!

—W. J. Lampton in New York Sun.

THINKING ALOUD.

A Ruse Which Roused Lord Dudley and Formed a Friendship.

One of the earls of Dudley, who was addicted to the practice of thinking aloud, found himself in a very awkward predicament on a certain occasion, if a story told of him may be credited. He was to spend the evening at the house of a friend and ordered his carriage early, as he had a long drive back to his own home.

When the hour arrived, the carriage was not forthcoming. Seeing that Lord Dudley was considerably annoyed by the delay, one of the guests, whose way homeward lay past his lordship's house, politely offered him a seat in his carriage. The gentleman was almost a stranger to Lord Dudley, but the offer was accepted.

The drive did not prove a very sociable one. Lord Dudley took his seat and immediately relapsed into silence, his thoughts apparently engrossed by some unpleasant subject. Presently he began to speak in a low, but distinctly audible tone of voice, and his companion, to his astonishment, heard him say:

"I'm very sorry I accepted his offer. I don't know the man. It was civil certainly, but the worst is I suppose I must ask him to dinner."

Silence followed this bit of audible thinking. His lordship was unaware that he had betrayed his thoughts and was probably still meditating upon the same unpleasant subject when the voice of his companion broke the stillness.

Apparently this stranger was afflicted with the same malady from which his lordship suffered, for he exactly imitated Lord Dudley's tone as he said:

"Perhaps he'll think I did it to make his acquaintance. Why, I would have done the same to any farmer on his estate. I hope he won't ask me to dinner, for I shan't accept his invitation."

Lord Dudley's abstraction was all gone. He listened to the other's words, immediately comprehending the joke against himself, and frankly offered his hand to his companion, making many apologies for his involuntary rudeness.

The stranger proved magnanimous, and from that night the two became fast friends.—Youth's Companion.

English Jacobite Societies.

To judge from the list of Jacobite clubs and associations given in the "Legitimist Calendar For 1895," which includes the order of the White Roses, the Devon White Rose club, the Legitimist Jacobite League of Great Britain and Ireland (ponderous title!), the Eastern Counties' (shade of Cromwell!) White Cockade club, the Forty-five club of Grimsby, the Glasgow Jacobite club, the Oxford University Legitimist club, the St. Ives (Hunts) Jacobite club, the Jacobite Restoration league, the Surrey White Rose league, the Mary Stuart club of Lanark, the Legitimist Registration union, the National Royalist and Jacobite association, the order of St. Germain and the Hemingford Grey Royal Oak club, not to mention our old familiar Thames Valley Jacobites and two or three foreign legitimist bodies, it ought not to be difficult for the supporters of the lost house of Stuart to put several hundred adherents in the field (or even Ludgate circus) if they so decide.—London Mail.

Bismarck of Jewish Descent.

Few people are aware that Prince Bismarck is of Hebrew descent. He derives his Jewish blood from his mother, whose father—Anastasius Menken, one of the favorite bureaucrats of Frederick the Great—was of Hebrew parentage. Although of late it has evidently appeared politic to the prince to countenance the anti-Semitic movement both in Germany and Austria, yet while in office he invariably showed himself a good friend to the Jewish nation and chose the Hebrew banker at Berlin, Baron von Bleichroeder, as his most trusted confidant. Indeed, in those days he was so well disposed toward the Jews that he even discussed the advisability of marrying his sons to Jewesses on the ground that it would bring money into the family again and likewise "improve both morally and physically the Bismarck breed."—International Review.
